The Cambodian Braille Machine Translation Website focuses on providing a specialized translation service for Khmer and English text into Braille. Additionally, the platform supports mathematical symbol translation in Braille, offering enhanced educational resources for individuals with visual impairments. The user interface prioritizes accessibility, aiming to facilitate seamless communication and learning experiences. This project is committed to addressing the unique needs of the visually impaired community, contributing to inclusive education and communication.